One-Day Workshop for Young Scholars:

Research Careers in the Study of the Military

The European Research Group on Military and Society (ERGOMAS) is pleased to announce a one-day workshop to be held in the framework of the next Conference in Israel in June 2015.

ERGOMAS is offering a workshop for young scholars engaged in the study of civil-military relations and the social scientific study of the military. Young scholars include doctoral students and those scholars that are at the beginning stages of their careers at universities or research institutes.

The workshop will allow participants to meet experienced scholars in discussions about career building and promotion, publication of articles and books, research grants and funding, or initiating and maintaining research ties with the armed forces. Of course, we welcome additional suggestions.

The aim of this workshop is to create a community of young scholars from a variety of countries that will be in touch between ERGOMAS conferences and to foster partnerships and collaboration.

The workshop will be held at a beautiful villa in the center of Tel Aviv, on the 8th of June (one day before the official opening of the conference) between 10:00-17:00.

Scholars interested in participating are asked to write to Eyal Ben-Ari (feba@netvision.net.il) with a copy to Irina Goldenberg (igoldenberg@sympatico.ca).
