Athens Conference Information

14th ERGOMAS Conference in Athens, Greece - June 26-30 2017

Dear members and friends of ERGOMAS,

I am pleased to share with you this Fall 2016 newsletter that provides information and key dates for the upcoming ERGOMAS Conference which will take place 26-30 June 2017 in Athens Greece. This newsletter describes the theme of the conference, the submission guidelines and deadlines, details regarding nomination for the Giuseppe Caforio ERGOMAS Award for Best Book, important information regarding hotels/accommodation and related deadlines, as well as information about the conference excursions and events. We look forward to seeing you in Athens for a productive conference and an opportunity to share key research in the domain of armed forces and society!

Irina Goldenberg
ERGOMAS Secretary General

Call for Papers and Participants

14th ERGOMAS Conference in Athens, Greece - June 26-30 2017

The European Research Group on Military and Society (ERGOMAS) is organizing its biennial conference on military and society hosted by the Hellenic Army Academy in Athens, Greece (www.sse.army.gr). Conference dates are June 26-30, 2017. The theme of the conference will be Military and Society: New Models for New Challenges (see below for additional detail). More detailed information on ERGOMAS, the Working Groups, and eventually further information about the conference can be found at the ERGOMAS website: <http://www.ergomas.ch/>.

We are also delighted to announce the conference keynote speaker will be Joseph Soeters, acclaimed scholar and recipient of the 2015 Morris Janowitz Career Achievement Award (of the Inter-University Seminar on Armed Forces and Society). He will provide an address (tentatively) entitled “From Social Sciences' Founding Mothers and Fathers to the Study of Today's Militaries”.

MILITARY AND SOCIETY: NEW MODELS FOR NEW CHALLENGES

The mass military forces led by aristocrats in the early nineteenth century transformed into the professional volunteer forces of the early twentieth. In the middle of the twentieth century, militaries transformed again into “international police-armies” designed to establish security and stability and provide humanitarian assistance. These changes in the military model evolved in concert with the social and political changes, especially with changes in the nature of conflict. We are now undergoing a new change in the nature of conflict. Phenomena such as the resurgence of nationalism after the Cold War, the escalation of terrorism, the internationalization of domestic conflicts, and the continuing development of multinational coalitions raise questions about how the military model will and must evolve to meet these challenges.

The upcoming ERGOMAS conference will focus on new lines of inquiry stemming from this new defense and security environment and how these emergent forces will affect the social structure of armed forces. In particular, we will focus on exploring how the study of military and society, both theoretical and practical, can be applied to understanding these evolving transformations and adapting to the challenges they pose.

We encourage discussion in these areas, as well as other key topics of research in the military and society domain. Please submit abstracts for papers by email for consideration to both the appropriate working group coordinator (see below for list of ERGOMAS Working Groups) and to the Secretary General (Irina.Goldenberg@forces.gc.ca).

Please submit panel proposals (including book discussions) no later than 1 Dec 2016. If you would like to propose a panel that might fall outside regular working groups, please direct it to the secretary general.

Please submit all other presentation proposals no later than 31 January 2017.

Abstracts should be a maximum of 250 words. Panel proposals should contain no more than 4 papers (with a maximum of 250 words per paper).

Please register through the ERGOMAS website or the following URL:

ERGOMAS AWARDS

THE GIUSEPPE CAFORIO EGOMAS AWARD FOR BEST BOOK

ERGOMAS will award a prize for the best book in the domains of armed forces and civil-military relations, published in the two calendar years since the previous conference (i.e., 2015 & 2016). The Award Committee will only consider books in English in the studies of armed forces and civil-military relations, in the areas covered by ERGOMAS' working groups and related areas. The book can be a monograph or an edited volume. Only books by ERGOMAS members will be considered. The Committee will accept self-nominations, or nominations by individual scholars or publishers. Three hard copies of the nominated books should be sent directly, a copy to each of the members of the award committee:

Dr. Ashu Pasricha (Chair)
Department of Gandhian and Peace Studies
Panjab University,
Chandigarh, 160014
India

Dr. René Moelker
Gastakker 116

Netherlands

Dr. Maren Tomforde
Sudetenstr. 4,
23909 Ratzeburg,
Germany

Deadline for submission- 31 January 2017.

ACCOMMODATION DETAILS

The conference will be hosted by the Hellenic Army Academy which is located about 20 km from Athens city center or 10 km from the last metro station (about 15 min by car). The Academy campus is a vast area near the seaside about 3 km from the beach. The suggested hotels are selected by the organizers after inspection and they are disposed to offer high standards of security, comfort, quality and location. Please find information and registration documents for the recommended hotels at the end of this newsletter. These are provided by the hotels and are thus in various formats (e.g., some require a form to be completed, others require phoning for reservation or reserving form on line) but should provide sufficient details to book your accommodations.

These hotels are divided into two groups: 1) the seaside hotels and 2) the downtown hotels which are located in the historical center of Athens at a max.10 min walking distance from the Acropolis and other sites of archaeological interest. It is highly recommended that you all make the hotel reservation on your own as soon as possible because our conference is scheduled at the beginning of a peak tourist season in a popular tourist country like Greece. As you can understand, we cannot guarantee special prices for guests at the last minute. The special rates are valid until specific dates that each hotel has indicated separately, given that, as mentioned, the tourist period at that time is at its peak.

No later than 8th April, please send a message to the organizers to indicate the exact name and address of your hotel. This information is required because we will be providing free transportation from your hotel to the congress site every morning but only from our suggested hotels.

Please provide your hotel details when registering for the conference. If you did not provide this information when registering, please ensure that you send this information to Dr. Nana Artavani at artmar000@yahoo.gr

For the seaside hotels: There will be a military bus from the suggested seaside hotels every morning which will pick you up and give you a ride to the Hellenic Army Academy and it will bring you back to your hotel in the evening.

For the city centre hotels: Participants of the suggested city center hotels will have to use the red line of the metro every morning (a ticket costs 1,40 Euros or less using a special tourist metro card of 3 days, 5 days or 7 days issued at every metro station) and get off at the terminal station of ELLINIKON (ten stops from Syndagma Square) from where the military buses will ensure your free transportation to the campus (about 15 min by bus).

Recommended hotels by the seaside are: London hotel, Glyfada hotel, Palace hotel and Amarilia Hotel. Recommended city center hotels are: Electra hotels and resort, Plaka hotel, Athens center hotel, Hermaes hotel, Amalia hotel, central Athens hotel, Royal olympic hotel, Athens Cypria hotel.

Please also note that our visits, which will take place during the congress, will use these hotels as a reference point.

CONFERENCE EXCURSIONS

There will be a battle ship visit on Wednesday 28th June. The point of departure and arrival in the evening will be the Hellenic Army Academy.

There will be a visit to the Acropolis on Friday 30th June. This visit is optional and will be at your own expense. It will take place in the afternoon and on foot so that you can wander around the historical center. The members of the organizing committee will be there to guide you. The point of departure will be the Acropolis metro station.

Please bear in mind the high summer temperatures in Athens at the end of June so remember your sunglasses, a hat, and comfortable walking shoes and always carry a bottle of water. The visit will last about 3 hours and of course do not forget to bring your cameras!

A one day optional cruise will be scheduled on Saturday 1st July. We will provide details as soon as possible but first we need a pre-registration free of charge until 9th April, because we have to know how many people are interested. The larger number of registrations, the better and cheaper the final price will be (it is estimated, however, not officially yet, that the cost will not exceed 60 Euros per person and half price for children under 11 all included). Visiting some small islands nearby such as Aegina, Poros, Hydra and Spetses by boat will offer moments of pleasure and relaxation. The departure will be early in the morning at about 7:30 – 08:00 from the port of Piraeus. You can easily get there by taking the green metro line. The arrival is estimated at about 20:00- 20:30 in the evening at the same port. People who are interested should be supplied with a high protection sun cream, a bathing suit and all the necessary swimming accessories because there will be swim stops. Coffee and lunch buffet will be offered during the sea travel which will last approximately 2-3 hours. One or two visits of archaeological interest will be offered. All these will be included in the visit price. Preliminary information on the cruise is below and we will provide further detailed information as soon as possible.

ONE DAY CRUISE

Description

We depart at 08.00 a.m. heading to the three beautiful islands of the Saronic Gulf.

After departure, our guide and the hostesses will ask you to assemble in one of the main lounges of the ship to get acquainted and to give you all the information concerning the ship, the program of the cruise and the islands and to make sure you will have a to have a pleasant day.

Hydra

The favorite island of the jet set, whose old traditional beautiful stone houses and mansions silently witness to a long and turbulent story. The small narrow stone paved streets await you to explore them on foot or by the island's traditional "vehicle" the saddled donkeys... captivating walks along the old seaside promenade crystal clear waters, radiant fine craft shops and the beauty of Hydra will conquer you! Our stay in Hydra is about 2 hours.

Poros

Although it is the smallest of the three islands that we visit, its attraction is the narrow strait offering a most enchanting view of the town of Poros. Our stay in Poros is about 1 hour.

Aegina

The largest of the three islands. Apart from its harbor, there are optional organized tours by air conditioned busses visiting the Temple of Afea (archeological site) or the Church of Saint Nektarios, whose relics are display. The above mentioned tours are optional and are sold on board the ship. Our stay in Aegina is about 2 hours.

On our way back to Marina Flisvos, a traditional Greek folk show with singers and dancers will entertain you up to the final moment as the ship arrives at Marina Flisvos.
